Our boast is the sanctity and permanence of the home, and the glory of our opportunities in the Western world is the offer of private home life to every man who desires its blessings. The state regards marriage as a legal contract or as a status growing out of the contract and throws around it the safeguards of its educational, regulative and protective systems. Christianity views the institution of marriage as the divine method of conserving the human race, and it safeguards the family through its moral and spiritual sanctions. As an interpretation of the thought of God, marriage is a relation between one man and one woman during the life of both the contracting parties, to be maintained as the highest type of love, joy, and mutual sacrifice. If the ideal of Christianity regarding the family life is properly understood and thoroughly incorporated...
