Excerpt: . . . 11 The Joint Committee staff is constantly reviewing and updating the models used to prepare revenue estimates. In addition, since 1995, the Joint Committee staff has been engaged in ongoing and extensive efforts to improve the Joint Committees rev-enue estimating capabilities by evaluating the feasibility of incorporating, to the extent appropriate, the macroeconomic effects of tax legislation. Three Joint Committee staff economists have devoted significant amounts of their time to this effort. The Joint Committee staff has utilized the services of economic consultants with macroeconomic expertise. Significant progress has been made, but significant work remains to be done. This testimony provides a brief overview of the Joint Committee revenue estimating process and discusses the status of the Joint Committee staffs investigation of the possible role of macroeconomic feedback analysis in revenue estimating. This discussion includes a summary of the Joint Committee staffs past research efforts, a description of the macroeconomic models that the Joint Committee staff is currently using, a discussion of the strengths and weaknesses in the current state of the art of macroeconomic analysis, and a description of the Joint Committee staffs plans for future work on macroeconomic analysis. II. OVERVIEW OF THE REVENUE ESTIMATING PROCESS In general Revenue estimates measure the anticipated changes in Federal receipts that result from proposed legislative changes to the Federal tax laws ( or other Federal laws ). A revenue estimate is simply the measure of revenue projected to be collected if a particular legislative change is...
